

Hello,

I, Dominique Lecapre, education manager at Changemaker Educations, hereby wish to give ett expertutlåtande gällande Dennis Lantzs pågående utbildning till experience designer.

Experience design, or user experience design, is one of the most sought after the skills in today's digital era. With the rapid technological development and increasing digitization worldwide, has the need for user-friendly and intuitive digital products and services have never been greater. Companies and organizations in all Industries are constantly looking for professionals who can improve the user experience and thus their competitiveness in the market.

The content and quality of the education:

Dennis Lantz participates in a comprehensive and intensive vocational college education that covers everyone essential aspects of experience design. The training includes, among other things:

- User-centered design: Focus on understanding and serving the end user needs and behaviors.
- Interaction design: Creation of intuitive and effective interaction patterns.
- User Surveys: Techniques for Collecting and Analyzing user feedback to improve design solutions.
- Prototyping: Practical skills in building and testing digital prototypes.

This education equips the students with both theoretical and practical knowledge skills that are directly applicable in working life.

Labor market needs and opportunities:

Completion of this training will greatly increase Dennis Lantzs employability. According to current labor market forecasts, demand is expected for experience designer, or UX as it is also called, continue to grow.

Sincerely,

Dominique Lecapre

